

STAT

Adam Yarmolinsky, a former secretary of the left wing Fund for the Republic, is said to be the chief "security" official of a new security Eatlon being established in the office of Wester F. Skallerup Jr., deputy assistant secretary of defense Expressing alarm over the stration, some Defense Department officials say the field group plans to take over the missions of better qualified Pentagon agencies which presently give thorough security check-ups to top defense officials.